BISHOP WOMACK DIES

NEW BLOW AT BIAS IN TRAVEL FACILITIES PROPOSED BY ICC

IT MUST COME DOWN! James Blake (left), a Youth Field Secretary in the states of Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin for the NAACP, declared to Calvin Davis, president of the local NAACP Youth Council, that the insulting sign which hangs in Riverside Amusement Park, 1700 W. 30th, reading "Patronage Whites Only Solicited," must come down. Mr. Blake, a native of Charleston, S. C., where he is a leader in sit-ins and originator of play-ins, said that signs like this could be anticipated in the South but in the North there is no excuse for them. Youth Council members went to Riverside last Friday afternoon but arrived before the owner had gotten there. (Recorder photo by Jim Burres)

NAACP National Youth Chairman Ends State Visit

The national youth chairman of the NAACP this week is winding up his stay in the state of Indiana and is making plans now to move on to Chicago. There he will continue re-activating and organizing councils, and promoting protest demonstrations against places where segregation exists.

James Blake, a native of Charleston, S.C., and presently a student at Morehouse College in Atlanta has traveled throughout the nation representing the NAACP as a Youth Field Secretary in the states of Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin.

He has already met with the local NAACP Youth Council led by Calvin Davis and others including councils in New Castle, Terre Haute, South Bend, Fort Wayne, Elkhart, Hammond and is to meet Friday and Saturday with chapters in Gary and East Chicago respectively. He also met

Ind. Civil Rights Group Schedules First Meet Aug. 18

Indiana's new Civil Rights Commission, which was authorized by the 1961 Legislature, has opened for business, and will hold its first meeting Aug. 18.

The five-member commission, with Harold O. Hatcher as executive director, has no enforcement powers and is directly responsible to the governor.

The commission "will have hearings on any complaints of discrimination and make recommendations," according to Hatcher. He continued, "We can subpoena witnesses, make findings, but we cannot enforce the findings."

The members of the commission are Richard Peterson, chairman, who is director of industrial relations at Western Electric Co., Indianapolis; Dean Joseph O'Mara, of the University of Notre Dame law school; Byron Novitsky, Ft. Wayne attorney; Herman Anderson, office worker for the national tube division of the U.S. Steel Corp. in Gary, and Mrs. A. Dale Fiers, wife of the head of the United Christian Missionary Society, Indianapolis.

Asks If Negroes Are Consulted In Terre Haute Urban Renewal

TERRE HAUTE — Has the urban renewal program now going on here been provided with a minority group housing problem subcommittee, as required by regulations of the national agency? This question was asked by William R. Morris of South Bend, NAACP state housing chairman, in a letter to the local project director.

Negro homeowners and civic leaders say they know of no such subcommittee being in existence. They fear the Negro has been given the run-around. "The only thing I know of is a letter they sent out in the very beginning," one property owner told The Recorder.

It said that property owners who will be affected have organized a Southwest Area Neighborhood

Council. But we were never notified when or where this council would meet.

"It was just white people." NEITHER OF THE pastors of two Negro churches, Allen Chapel AME and St. Paul Baptist, has been informed of any subcommittee. The Recorder was told. The churches are both in the South-west area and are the two largest structures owned by Negroes in Terre Haute.

The subcommittee question was raised in a letter from Mr. Morris to Emmanuel Goreland, director of the project here.

Morris said he was asking for factual information in regard to complaints that Negroes were not represented adequately in the planning of

Proposed Ruling May End Public Travel Jimcrow

WASHINGTON — An interracial group of seven clergymen, Freedom Riders, flew to Washington last week and were told by a spokesman for the Interstate Commerce Commission that a long-awaited new regulation banning racial segregation in interstate travel will be issued promptly.

The pledge was made by Robert L. Murphy, vice-chairman, after listening to the group who flew to Washington after their arrests for trying to get a cup of coffee in a Jackson, Miss., airport.

Serving as spokesman for the interracial group of ministers was the Rev. Richard Byfield, assistant to the Episcopal Bishop of California. After their appeal to the ICC for a speed up of its order, the group visited Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy.

The attorney general agreed with the ministers that "religious leaders have not spoken out with as clear a voice as they might have in helping to bring about an end to segregation in the South without too many people being hurt."

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who has been urging the President to issue an executive order abolishing segregation, was to have joined the ministerial group in Washington but was detained in Philadelphia where he had gone to visit his ailing father.

MEANWHILE THE Department of Justice filed a support of the attorney general's May 29 request for a new regulation covering non-discrimination in waiting rooms, rest rooms and restaurants of bus terminals.

The commission has scheduled a hearing on the proposed new order for Aug. 15.

The Justice Department's brief which points out in recent months efforts by American citizens to use the facilities of interstate bus transportation without racial discrimination, have dramatized a sharp cleavage between the federal law and local practice.

"Although the law clearly provides that persons traveling on buses in interstate commerce shall be free from racial discrimination while using the facilities of such commerce," the brief states, "many travelers have been frustrated in their efforts to do so."

"In terminal facilities they have faced refusal of service, the closing of facilities, physical violence, and even arrest local police."

"These conditions cannot be tolerated. Not only are rights involved, but respect for law itself."

THE BRIEF reveals that the files of the Justice Department contains complaints of 39 incidents of racial discrimination in interstate bus transportation, in the past three years. Of these incidents, 17 involved discrimination in terminal facilities and 22 involved segregated seating on buses.

Alabama led with seven complaints, and Florida and Georgia were tied for second place with six complaints each.

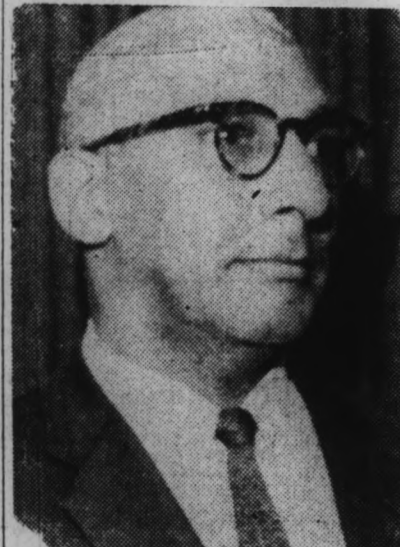

Attorney General Kennedy asked Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara their opinion of the effect of racial discrimination in interstate bus travel upon United States foreign relations by incidents of racial discrimination with this country.

SECRETARY McNamara expressed the full support of the Defense Department for the addition of the rules proposed by the Justice Department. In his letter Mr. McNamara described some of the devices used by the military to avoid subjecting their personnel to racial discrimination while traveling.

"That such devices need be used is eloquent testimony to this Nation's failure to eliminate racial discrimination in a field in which there is clear Federal jurisdiction," the brief asserts.

Legislative Reapportioning of Ind. Asked in Federal Court Suit

Former Resident Added to Staff at Flanner House

HENRY L. HUMMONS

The appointment of Henry L. Hummons as head of food technology at Flanner House was announced recently by Dr. Cleo W. Blackburn, executive director of the agency. Mr. Hummons, a former resident and a member of an old Indianapolis family, returns from years of service in Buffalo, N. Y., and the food purveying field.

Dr. Blackburn noted that Hummons will direct the food catering program and supervise the food technology interns.

A far-reaching lawsuit seeking to compel the State of Indiana to reapportion its legislative districts, so as to bring about truly representative democracy in the state government, was filed in Federal District Court on Wednesday by the Indiana Civil Liberties Union.

If successful, the action will break the stranglehold on the state legislature which rural areas have maintained unconstitutionally for the past 40 years, and will give proper representation to Hoosier city dwellers, including the vast majority of Negroes.

The reapportionment suit was filed in the Federal District Court of Southern Indiana, over which Judge Cale J. Holder presides, by an interracial team of ICLU attorneys on behalf of defendants in Indianapolis, Gary, South Bend and Fort Wayne.

THESE DEFENDANTS CLAIM that because the Indiana General Assembly has ignored its constitutional mandate to reapportion in line with changing population figures, their votes do not have the same weight as those of persons living in depopulated farm areas.

Thus, according to exhibits included in the brief, each State Senator from Lake County (Gary) represented 97,772 voters in the 1960 election, while each Senator from the Clay-Pike County (Brazil) District represented only 25,069.

In the House, each Representative from Lake-Porter Counties represented 54,502 voters, while from Parke

Hundreds of Church Dignitaries Expected for Prelate's Rites

The Christian Methodist Episcopal Church suffered a great loss this week in the death of Bishop Arthur W. Womack. The noted clergyman died in his sleep Monday at Methodist Hospital, where he had been confined for several weeks.

Bishop Womack was 70 years old and resided at 4244 N. Capitol, here. He was the presiding bishop of the Fourth Episcopal District, comprised of the states of Mississippi and Louisiana.

Bishop Womack was born in Halifax, Va., and had resided in Indianapolis 29 years, where he pastored Phillips Temple for seven years. Other prominent churches he pastored in the C.M.E. connection include St. John in Detroit, Lane Tabernacle in St. Louis, Collins Chapel in Memphis and historic Israel in Washington, D.C.

A great fighter for civil rights, Bishop Womack was a former president of the Indianapolis Branch of the NAACP, and had been active in the Association's work for more than 40 years. He was also a writer for the Associated Negro Press and several Negro newspapers.

The world-renowned churchman was president of the Fraternal Council of Churches in America and helped establish his church's missionary work in Africa, making several trips there. He was in Ghana for its independence ceremonies as special guest of Prime Minister Nkrumah.

BISHOP WOMACK was elevated to the office of bishop in 1950 and carried to this office one of the most outstanding pastoral records ever attained in the annals of C.M.E. history.

Said a prominent local minister in referring to Bishop Womack: "His distinguished clergyman was tireless in his pursuits, honest in his intent, righteous in his perspective, fervent in his preaching and humble in his actions."

Bishop Womack was founder of the Youth Division of the Women's Connectional Council of the C.M.E. Church, which is named the Mattie E. Coleman Circle.

Funeral services for the noted prelate will be held at 11 a.m. Monday at Phillips Temple CME Church, with Bishop Luther C. Stewart of the Second Episcopal District officiating. The eulogy will be delivered by Bishop J. Claude Allen, Gary, of the Third Episcopal District.

Burial will be in Crown Hill Cemetery. Friends may call at Jacobs Brothers Westside Chapel Sunday until 8 p.m. Then the body will be moved to Phillips Temple

Bishop's Death Leaves Void Hard to Fill, Churchmen Say

Two of the city's leading C.M.E. ministers, Rev. J. L. Cummings, pastor of Trinity C.M.E. Church and Rev. H. L. Burton, pastor of Phillips Temple C.M.E. Church said Indianapolis, the C.M.E. Church and the Negro had truly lost a friend in the passing of Bishop Womack.

"The C.M.E. Church lost a bishop, Indianapolis lost a citizen and humanity lost a friend."

"Bishop Womack exhibited a sincere dignity and warm personality in all of his relationships. He was a great exponent in the church, having started several new congregations, burned several mortgages and was instrumental in the construction of several churches."

"He was a noted financier in the church and his counsel was sought by many in this area," Rev. Cummings remarked sadly in praise of Bishop Womack.

Rev. Burton said, "Bishop Womack was a loving father, husband, churchman and most beloved bishop. His death leaves a void hard to fill in the religious life of the nation."

Wealthy White Youths Deface Home of Former Local 'Y' Exec.

TOLEDO, Ohio (ANP)—Eight white youths from well-to-do families admitted last week that they defaced the newly purchased home of a YMCA executive who is well-known in Indianapolis.

The boys—sons of doctors, business executives and YMCA leaders—said they were expressing resentment against a white couple who sold the home to Thomas E. Barnett and his wife, Hazel, a teacher.

Detectives, who spent a week investigating the incident, said the boys had heard talk from adults who resented the fact that a Negro family was moving into an all-white city block.

The young vandals used paint from a pressurized can.

They first threw firecrackers into the yard of the home. Then they smeared the garage, screens and side of the house with red paint.

Barnett reportedly paid $15,000 for the two-story brick home.

A NATIVE OF Indianapolis, Barnett came up through the old Senate Avenue (now Fall Creek Parkway) YMCA, which he once served as assistant boys' work secretary. He received his A.B. degree from DePauw University and his M.A. from Springfield YMCA College, attending both on scholarships.

He is the son of Mrs. Alberta Jarrett, 3107 Boulevard, Indianapolis.

Budget Increase Asked for Local Rights Program

Sit-in, Boycotts, Freedom Rides Will Increase

A slight boost in the appropriation for the Mayor's Human Rights Commission is being sought as the proposed 1962 city budget will come before the City Council next week.

Commission Chairman Edmund J. Bradley has proposed an appropriation of $14,330. The Recorder learned. This year the commission is operating on $10,875.

Since appointment of Rev. James Jones as executive secretary last February, the commission has been extremely active in combating discrimination and soothing racial friction. Problems of this nature have zoomed to major proportions with the influx of thousands of Southerners, both white and Negro, to the city, as well as the worldwide Freedom drive and conservative opposition to it.

Yet persons close to the commission say its work has been well-nigh hamstrung by a lack of funds to carry on even routine public relations activities.

IF MAYOR CHARLES H. BOWELL approves the proposal, the $14,330 figure will be included in the budget ordinance to be introduced in City Council on Monday.

Public hearings on the Human Rights appropriation and other matters including Civil Defense will be held at City Hall on Tuesday at 7 p.m. Civil rights leaders, who have experienced sharp moves by the opposition in the past, are urging all interested organizations and individuals to turn out.

With the prospect of a tax rate increase to about $9 per $100 assessed valuation in Center Township, the Citizens' Budget Advisory Committee on Monday recommended

JACKSON, Miss. — A total of 273 Freedom Riders including two from Mississippi, are serving jail terms here as the arrests continue to soar with the number of persons who continue rides to the South to test discrimination in interstate travel.

The NAACP has announced that a massive onslaught against all forms of racial segregation and discrimination in the South will continue. The demonstrations will include more freedom rides, boycotts, sit-ins, and court fights which in the past have steadily eliminated racial barriers in the South.

While Negro militants are complaining that progress is too slow, segregationists are seeking to completely halt any further advancement of integration. The latest two victims to be arrested were riders from this state. One was given a sentence of two years in jail and a $2,000 fine and the other 18 months in jail and $1,500 fine.

Among the nine arrested recently were members of the "Mission to Mississippi," composed of clergymen of the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths, who planned to meet in Jackson to "study and pray" for solution to the problems of race relations.

The protestors received fines of $200 each and four months in jail. Included were two rabbis and the wife of one, and six Catholic churchmen arrested on the usual "breach of the peace" charge.

Until recently the only cooperative efforts of segregationists to fight back the steady advance of integration has been in Congress where the southern bloc has scored notable successes in sidetracking, modifying or defeating civil rights legislation.

Otherwise each state and each local community has been left to

Visions of Sugar Plums Dance In Kiddies' Eyes As Picnic Date Nears

What is the longest and largest public service feature conducted by a Negro business in Indianapolis each year? If your answer is The Indianapolis Recorder's annual picnic — you're right!

For the past 30 years The Indianapolis Recorder has offered the kiddies of the Indianapolis area a place where they can run, play and eat at its own expense.

Camp Belzer, with its 276 acres of beautiful wooded area, acts as a vast playground for the Recorder kiddies and the many underprivileged children of our community. There the kiddies can "whoop and holler" all day long and nobody cares because the camp is far from any residential area.

Prior to the Camp Belzer site, picnics were held at Bridwell Farms, Woodhaven, the Harry Lee place at 64th and Rucker Road, but these locations did not have the facilities to feed the estimated 4,000 children who attended the picnic annually.

Each year the picnic grows in size and popularity and this year will be no exception. A caravan of 21 or more buses, escorted by city police and sheriff's deputies, will leave the Recorder office at 8 a. m., Monday, Aug. 28.

Many treats such as hot dogs, snowballs, popcorn, ice cream, pop, baked beans, etc., will be served to the many youngsters attending. Contests and other features will provide a wonderful setting for what has been termed by many as "one of the most looked-forward-to events" in Indianapolis for the children.

As usual a child's safety will be assured at the picnic grounds with the presence of policemen, police-women, civil defense officers, members of the sheriff's department and representatives of the American Red Cross.

Even though the management of "Indiana's Greatest Weekly" undertakes this great task, they don't mind at all because they like children and they like to do things for them. This, they think, has been proven every year by their annual picnic, and the Christmas charity gifts given to unfortunate families.

Noted Personalities, Big Events, on Kappa's 50th Anniversary Program

BLOOMINGTON—A major number of the world's great pianists, a number of special events and outstanding personalities will be present during the 50th Grand Chapter Meeting of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity.

More than 1,000 Kappa brothers will meet Aug. 27-30 on the campus of Indiana University in Bloomington. This will mark the golden anniversary of the founding of Kappa Alpha Psi on the campus.

The first big special event will be the dedication of the Elder Watson Diggs Memorial Home on the Indiana University campus Sunday, Aug. 27. The Rev. James B. Cayce will speak.

Dr. Samuel D. Proctor of Greensboro, N.C., will preach the convention sermon at 11 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 27. He is president of A & T College and a noted minister.

A family cookout and talent show will be held Monday, Aug. 28. A Kappa Quartet Kontest will be held Tuesday, Aug. 29. A women's card party will be held Wednesday, Aug. 30.

Two special events will be a style show at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday and an artists' recital at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. Featured artist at both events will be Miss Lois Towles of San Francisco.

Miss Towles has achieved international fame as a pianist, a fashion designer and a painter. She speaks French, Spanish and German in addition to English. Her piano talents are supervised by the famed Arthur Rubenstein.

In private life Miss Towles is the wife of a Kappa man, Dr. Richard C. Caesar of San Francisco. She will direct the style revue. She will be among a number of vocalists and instrumentalists who will perform in the artists' recital.

An outstanding event in the grand convention will be the traditional Undergraduate-Alumni Luncheon at 12 noon Wednesday. Guest speaker will be Dr. Robert H. Schaeffer, dean of students at Indiana University. Another highlight of the luncheon will be the presentation of awards to the outstanding undergraduate brother of each province. Ronald Sullivan, junior grand vice polemarch, will present the awards.

The social climax of the Grand Chapter will be the Golden Anniversary Ball Wednesday night featuring the immortal Duke Ellington and his band.

Ellington, called the Duke in music circles, is currently engaged in writing the score for a new jazz movie, "Paris Blues" starring Sidney Poitier, Diahann Carroll, Paul Newman and Joanne Woodward. Louis Armstrong also will be featured.

The achievements of the Duke in music are too numerous to be listed and are known throughout the world.

These varied programs are aimed at making the Kappa's Golden Anniversary the greatest in the fraternity's history.

Bias War

fight its battles alone often inadequately prepared and usually at great expense.

The first step aimed at "Southern unity" came two weeks ago when representatives of 28 cities in 10 states met at Baton Rouge to organize the Southwide Municipal Conference. North Carolina was the only state of the Old Confederacy not represented.

This was followed by a conference of four Governors and other high officials from eight Southern states at Jackson. It resulted in the arrest of two persons for demonstrating against the conference. They were signs reading: "Let's Join the U.S.," "Governors Don't Forget Freedom," and "Lead Us To The Future, Not The Past."

Members of the Mission to Mississippi conferred with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy who said that clergymen play an active role in fighting racial discrimination. He declared, "I don't see how anyone could wear a collar and not stand against that particular evil."

Hold-Up Men Given 10-Year Sentences

Two Negro holdup men were each sentenced to 10 years in Federal prison last week for robbing a Northside savings and loan association of $13,400 last April.

They are Christopher Columbus Maxson, 20, 1224 E. 16th, and William Joe Caddis, 18, 1918 Carrollton.

The two men, both of whom had long records of juvenile arrests, told Federal court Judge Cale J. Holder they robbed the Union Federal Savings and Loan Association, 7 E. 38th, because they were a little short of cash.

They were arrested by City police and Federal agents last month after it was noted they were spending large sums of money, which they later admitted obtaining in the April 10 holdup. Caddis told Holder he blew most of his $6,700 share of the robbery loot in crap and dice games here and in Louisville, where, during the weekend of the Kentucky Derby, he lost about $1,200.

Both he and Maxson said they also bought automobiles with a portion of their shares. The cars were paid for in cash in transactions with two well-known Indianapolis auto dealers, they said. Caddis and Maxson contended they used a toy pistol in the holdup.

districts; or in any other suitable manner the court might prescribe. The problem of unfair dominance of rural districts is nation-wide, and has come to a head in a number of states. The whole question was aired on a widely-viewed TV program last winter.

Attorney Ward said lawsuits similar to the local one have been successful in Minnesota, where a Federal Court took action, and in New Jersey, where a state court ordered reform.

Plaintiffs in the suit are John S. Griffin, 6030 Allisonville Road, an engineer at Eli Lilly & Co.; Rev. John E. Hunter, president of the Gary branch of the NAACP; David L. Matthews, South Bend attorney, and Bruce L. Stout, retired Fort Wayne teacher.

IF SUCCESSFUL, the action will bring about the greatest reform in Indiana government in 40 years. Dr. Robert C. Risk, 3340 Kessler Blvd. East Drive, is president of the ICLU. Attorneys in the case besides Mr. Ward are John Wood, Robert Risch and Jerome Strauss, all of this city.

While the action is technically directed against Gov. Matthew E. Welsh as well as other state officials, the fact is that Governor Welsh is an ardent advocate of reapportionment.

The Governor urged the last session of the General Assembly to reapportion, but in vain as the country politicians held on to their advantages in defiance of the Constitution.

Katanga (Congo) NAACP Youth Leader 'Makes New Friends'

WASHINGTON (ANP) — Questions are being asked about Moise Tshombe's current role in the affairs of Katanga Province in Congo (Leopoldville).

Recent announcements from the Katanga Interior Minister Godefroid Munonge claim that Tshombe has authorized the dispatch of missions to Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia to discuss possible aid and economic agreements. This has given rise to conjecture that Katanga is no longer "Africa's shield against communism."

Simultaneously, in the nation's capital, Thomas Tshombe, 30-year-old brother of President Moise Tshombe, last week was presenting to the State Department, an "ultimatum" that U. S. back Katanga's desire for independence.

Thomas Tshombe is accompanied by Jean-Marie Pweto, vice-president of the provincial parliament; and Henri Kamola, administrative general secretary of the Katanga Health ministry. The delegation is augmented by 15 paramount chiefs, representing the 19 tribal groups in Katanga.

Their announced purpose is to win U. S. support for Katanga's independence from the Congo. Their argument is that "self-determination," a principle applied to many other areas of the world, should be granted to the two million inhabitants of Katanga.

According to Thomas Tshombe, a "civil war" will erupt in Katanga if the 20,000-man UN peace army in the Congo seeks to force Katanga to bow to the dictates of the central Congo government.

Whether this threatened swing to the Soviet camp has the blessings of President Moise Tshombe is unknown. According to Munonge, the president is ill and has made no public appearances since July 11.

If this move has the president's backing, then it is either a complete reversal of his earlier stand against communism, or it is an example of the "neutrality" being preached in Africa which plays the East against the West.

During the time President Tshombe was being held prisoner by the Congo government, official observers expressed the fear that Katanga under the leadership of Tshombe's seconds-in-command might stray away from his pro-western policy and embrace Soviet overtures. Very few public announcements have been made by Tshombe since his release, through the efforts of Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu.

This has given rise to speculation that Tshombe is no longer the real leader of the Katanga, but is merely a figurehead whose name is being used by his former lieutenants to keep the provincial citizenry in line.

Munonge seems now to be the real leader, though he still issues official statements in the name of Moise Tshombe. The interior minister is reportedly against the United Nations and also Belgium, whose Societe Generale de Belgique is the major mining concern controlling the mineral production in the province.

Munonge, whose grandfather was slain by the Belgians during a tribal insurrection, is said to have no qualms about dealing with Soviet bloc countries.

Whatever the intent of the threat, should the Soviet Union gain control of the Katanga, it will be in a position to control 70 percent of the world's cobalt supply. Cobalt, an important element in hydrogen bombs, is also a vital ingredient in high-strength steel alloys.

During 1959, Katanga produced 18.8 million pounds of cobalt, a figure that was a little less than twice that produced jointly by Canada, Northern Rhodesia, Morocco and the U. S.

where it will lie in state through the night.

A host of bishops, high church dignitaries, college presidents and laymen will be in the city for the services. Several C.M.E. bishops are attending the World Methodist Conference in Oslo, Norway, and will be unable to attend. Bishop Womack had planned to attend this conference when he was stricken.

Bishop Womack was chairman of the Superannuated Preachers, Widows and Orphans Board of the church, and former chairman of the Board of Trustees at Paine College in Augusta, Ga. He was also chairman of the Board of Trustees of Mississippi Industrial College.

BISHOP WOMACK was educated at Paine College and Howard University. He held the following degrees: A.B., M.A., D.D. and LL.D.

One of his pet projects was the raising of more than $50,000 for Paine College.

The prominent churchman is survived by his widow, Mrs. Bertha Womack; a son, Robert Womack Sr.; a grandson, Robert Womack Jr., and a great-grandson, all of Indianapolis; two sisters, Mrs. Lillie Easley of South Boston, Va., and Mrs. Mary Cox of Bridgeport, Conn., and three brothers, Rev. Sidney Womack of Harrisburg, Pa.; Major Womack and Early Womack, both of East Orange, N.J.

All-Out Drive Launched To Raise Funds For Local Zoo

The Indianapolis Zoological Society is launching an all-out drive to start building the Indianapolis Zoo in 1962. First phase of the drive will be a campaign during the month of August to secure memberships in the society, with dues to be used to pay operating and other necessary organizational expenses.

The Indianapolis Zoological Society project, it was reported, has the backing of the City of Indianapolis (which donated the land) and a strong group of civic, business and financial leaders. It started out as a closely knit group of about a dozen zoo enthusiasts, but now the ranks are beginning to swell. The Society does, however, need more members . . . lots of members to help defray the original cost and later, after the zoo is established, to buy animals and make improvements in the zoo facilities.

Time table for the actual fund raising drive calls for the Society to open an office in September and spend the next several months preparing for an active fund solicitation starting in February.

The Society will be calling on the public for cooperation throughout the next 6 to 9 months. While the Society had no general membership campaign to date a quiet effort was made earlier this year to enlist civic leaders as members and organizational workers. Under the able direction of Mrs. George W. Stark, several hundred members were added.

THE SOCIETY found a gratifying willingness to help on the part of the public. Leading business firms volunteered their services. A department store provided the Society with engravings, supplies and services of various sorts.

A meat packing firm generously provided the Society with much printed matter. One firm is putting up a handsome billboard-type sign for indicating the location of the zoo-to-be in George Washington Park.

Officers of the Society are Patrick E. Starkey of L. S. Ayres, president; William A. Evans, assistant superintendent of schools, vice-president; George S. Olive Jr., of the George S. Olive firm of public accountants, treasurer; and Lowell Nussbaum, the Indianapolis Star, secretary. Directors are Mrs. George W. Stark; Robert R. Baxter, builder; J. R. Townsend, insurance agency head and former Indianapolis Parks Department superintendent; W. J. Holliday Jr., investments; Richard T. James, Hoosier Motor Club, secretary-manager and former lieutenant-governor; and Arthur H. Gemmer, attorney.

Dean H. Phillips, Indianapolis Convention Bureau, assistant manager, is chairman of the public relations and promotion committee. Phillips may be reached at ME. 5-9567.

commended swinging the axe on appropriations sought by the Sanitary and Park Board.

THE PROPOSED SANITARY budget could be reduced by holding down employees' pay and hiring no new workers, said the committee, which is headed by Ferner S. Cannon, savings and loan executive. The Park budget could be slashed by halting the expanding city golf program. Lights for night golfing have been proposed for Douglass Park and other courses.

The advisory committee said that more emphasis should be placed on "inexpensive youth activities."

The committee recommended that the civil city budget be left as proposed by the department heads.

Juvenile Delinquency Increase in 1960 Shown Over 1959 Statistics

Statistics released recently by agencies of the Marion County Juvenile Court indicate in 1960 an increase of more than 24 per cent in juvenile delinquency of the year of 1959.

A total of 2055 youngsters were involved in 2690 offenses which came to the attention of the Juvenile Court. Burglaries represented an increase of more than 18 per cent over the report for 1959; vehicle taking an increase of more than 26 per cent.

Stealing among juvenile offenders increased more than 18 percent over the 1959 case load; truancy, more than 34 per cent; disorderly conduct more than 58 per cent; sex offenses more than 32 per cent and offenses with weapons more than 32 per cent.

Surveying the six Census tracts of Marion County and the city of Indianapolis in which the greatest incidence of juvenile delinquency have been indicated; the Negro population is predominant in three and it represents more than 50 per cent of the population in another.

In an area, generally from Washington St. to 18th St., west of the Indianapolis Water Co. Canal to White River, Negro people predominate in the population, representing more than 96 per cent. The Negro population predominates exclusively in an area from 10th St. to 21st St. between Capitol Ave. and Northwestern Ave.

There is a heavy incidence of juvenile delinquency in an east-side area in which more than 97 per cent of the homesteaders are Negro people. This area is generally between 16th and 21st St., bounded on the east by Ralston and the west by Cornell Ave. The same applies to another area in which Negro residents represent more than 52 per cent of the homesteaders. This area is generally between Ralston and Rural, south of 21st St. to Mass. Ave.

During the year of 1960, 2156 cases were disposed of by the Juvenile Court. Many of these cases had been referred in 1959 but did not have their hearing until 1960. In almost all of the ten most frequent offenses a large percentage increase was indicated in 1960.

Persons associated with county administrative departments reflect different views on the query of whether juvenile delinquency is increasing or decreasing. They note that if one asks the police department, it is decreasing. If one asks the Juvenile Court, it is increasing.

Elsewhere the specter of alarm prevails. In a report on juvenile crime in recent months, J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation asserted that juvenile crime may soon "penetrate our cities and towns unless some quick action is taken." Mr. Hoover further asserted that youthful criminals account for one half of our burglary and larceny arrests, two-thirds of our arrests for automobile thefts, and their rate of participation in more serious crimes, robbery, murder and rape and assault is steadily increasing.

"The FBI director asserted that if we are to continue living in a free and decent society, we must do much more than halt this trend, we must reverse it."

He calls for a reinstatement of basic American family traditions—work, discipline, duty and honor. He indicated that these have been neglected in some manners for nearly two decades.

More strikingly, he proposes that in the fight against the flare of crime of the younger generation, a move in the right direction is to call juvenile outlaws what they are—criminals, not delinquents.

However, he ventures we can take important steps against the spread of more juvenile crime by supporting conclusively or more widely Boys' Clubs, Girls' Clubs, the YMCA, YWCA, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Police Athletic Leagues, Jewish, Catholic and other youth organizations.

Tech Senior Places In Speech Contests

Terrence R. Tandy, 16-year-old Arsenal Technical High School student, who won first place in the Elks local and state oratorical contest held at Indianapolis and Richmond, placed third in the semi-national contest held recently at Gary.

He was in competition with winners from Illinois, Ohio, Canada, Michigan, Wisconsin and Kentucky. Terrence has recently returned from a week's stay in Pittsburgh where he represented Indiana in a national speech tournament held at the University of Pittsburgh. This tournament was sponsored by the National Forensic League.

The Tech student was one of three Negro high school students who participated in this contest in which every state in the union was represented. He placed 15th in original oratory.

Terrence is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Tandy of 2815 N. Winthrop.

Indiana Senators Do Not Vote on FCCR Nominee

WASHINGTON — Indiana's two senators — Republican Homer E. Capehart and Democrat Vance Hartke — didn't vote when the Senate recently confirmed the nomination of Spottswood W. Robinson III to the Federal Commission on Civil Rights — but both senators had announced earlier they favored confirmation.

Robinson is a Negro integrationist and dean of the Howard University Law School here.

Robinson won confirmation in the Senate on a 73-17 roll call vote. He has represented the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in many cases of civil rights legislation.

Besides opposing Robinson's nomination, several Southerners demanded that the Commission, which meets only on call, be abolished. The Commission investigates reports of civil rights violations. It has no police or judicial powers, but makes periodic reports to the President and Congress.

The Commission, created in 1957, will die Nov. 8 unless its life is extended. Legislation to keep it going has been introduced, but is tied up in a Senate Judiciary subcommittee headed by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C.

Commission members draw no salary. They get $50 a day when the Commission is in session.

Valet Who Worked For 3 Presidents Dies at Home

William Lee Sarver Sr., 49, who was valet to many of the world's dignitaries during the 17 years he was on the staff at the White House, died July 23 in his home, 3102 E. 22nd. Funeral services were to be held July 27 in the Patton Funeral Home, with burial in Crown Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Sarver had worked for Presidents Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower; and had received many gifts from famous persons, including three Presidents and Queen Elizabeth.

He was Sir Winston Churchill's private valet during the meetings between the Prime Minister and President Roosevelt in Florida.

A native of Indianapolis, Mr. Sarver had resided in Indianapolis most of his life except for the 17 years (1939 to 1956) he spent in Washington, D.C. While in Washington he was a member of St. Luke's Episcopal Church.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Juanita F. Sarver; a daughter, Mrs. Jean Warren; a son, William Lee Sarver Jr.; his father, Esley Sarver Sr.; three sisters, Mrs. Margaret Russell, Dayton, O., Mrs. Louise Holliday, Indianapolis, and Esley Sarver Jr., Los Angeles, and seven grandchildren.

Burglary Wave Strikes Generally On Northside of City Over Weekend

THE HEAT IS ON—BUT NEGRO BURGLARIES CONTINUE AT RAPID PACE.

HEAT! That one word meant very little to local burglars over last weekend as break-ins and larcenies continued on the rampage despite the sweltering and muggy weather. In short, 8 Negro homes were damaged and $1,205 in merchandise was stolen, police reported.

RUDOLPH CRAIG, 38, 4256 Rookwood, called police Saturday when he came home and found that someone had entered his home through an unlocked rear window and escaped with his 17" portable T.V., valued at $150, an Emerson electric heater, valued at $35, and $200 worth of his wife's clothes.

HENRY CRITTENDEN, 39, 130 W. 18th, stated that sometime between 10 p.m. Friday and Saturday morning while he was asleep someone had entered his unlocked room, took his trousers from a bedpost, and removed $30 from his pocket. He also reported $20 missing from his pocket on another occasion. Upon investigation, police learned the thief was a teenage girl who lived in the building. The girl, who said she was aided by two other youths, was taken to Juvenile Aid Division.

SYLVIA SHACK, 34, 128 W. 32nd, found her front window glass broken out when she returned home at 9 p.m. Saturday. Further investigation revealed that all her linen, four pairs of ladies' shoes, brown leather suitcase, and a dress were missing.

JEWEL MATHEWS, 31 1345 W. 33rd, returned home at 3:30 p.m. Sunday. He told police he found his front bedroom window open and an RCA portable T.V.

set and Motorola clock radio missing. He also reported 18 empty beer bottles stolen.

LACK JONES, 74, 2835 Boulevard, told police that someone broke out the window on the west side of his garage to gain access to his 1957 Cadillac which was stripped of a spare tire and wheel and a brown leather case containing tools valued at $25. He said the burglary must have taken place between 9 p.m. Saturday and 7 a.m. Sunday.

FLORENCE MARTIN, 67, 3344 Rader, said that sometime after 10 p.m. Friday someone entered her garage by breaking out a rear window and stole two tires from her son's Royce Union bicycle.

ROSALIE WILSON, 842 N. West, was away from her home Saturday. Police said a man in a truck pulled up in front of Mrs. Wilson's home and told three small children playing on the front porch that he was from a T.V. shop and had come to take the "X.V. for repairs. The children let the man into the front room of the home where he took the 23" Sylvania T.V., valued at $366. Mrs. Wilson reported the theft when she returned home in the afternoon.

NONI ROBINSON, 49, 411 Douglass, told police that at about 10 p.m. Friday she spotted a colored subject in her backyard stealing 10 cartons of empty soft drink bottles. She said thieves in the neighborhood have been constantly stealing various objects from her yard. This time, Mrs. Robinson said, she has a suspect and will prosecute same if apprehended.

Voice of the Eastside

By MARY P. MCGUIRE

Although the temperature registered 95 degrees in Hopkinsville, Ky., Sunday, the Connells enjoyed two fine services there. The ole scribe and hubby went along with others on a bus sponsored by members of the Corinthian Baptist Church's Pastor's Aid with Mrs. Modell Dycus in charge.

Arriving in Hopkinsville we were met by an uncle, Rev. Lesley Galbreath, pastor of Gainsville Baptist Church where we attended morning worship services. The church has a fine group of young people, four singing groups and a newly-organized Men's Chorus.

After dinner, we went to Durrett Avenue Baptist Church where Rev. Daniel Roberts is pastor. The Pastor's Aid Chorus of Corinthian with Mrs. Julia Means as pianist and director stirred the church with its spiritual numbers.

Mrs. Dycus and Marsha Means sang. Others who sang included Mmes. Jean Hill, Elizabeth Curry and Rev. Stephen Wells Spoke on "The Eagle Stirreth Her Nest."

I met a deacon, Guy Tally, who told me where I was born in the hills of old Kentucky.

Included among persons on the 41-passenger bus were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curry and their four sons; Mrs. Elizabeth Gay and Patrick Dozer.

Last Tuesday marked the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Rogers of 141 S. Webster. Mrs. Rogers is active in the Eastern Stars and is a member of First Baptist Church, Irvington. She designs lovely corsages.

Ministers and laymen mourn with the family of Bishop Arthur W. Womack who died Monday in Methodist Hospital. I had the pleasure of working with the late Bishop Womack years ago as a board member of the NAACP when he served as local president.

The NAACP met regularly at the YMCA then. He was a fine person to know and was interested in all worthwhile affairs of the city, state and nation. Bishop Womack's death will be felt by the entire nation.

Speaking of the NAACP, a letter comes to my desk that James Gilbert Blake, a national youth worker for the NAACP, has been speaking to youth councils in several cities in Indiana.

I regret the letter arrived too late for me to meet with him.

Thom Ervins Return Home from Two-Week Puerto Rican Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Thom Ervin of 2449 N. Illinois returned home this week following an enjoyable two-week vacation in colorful Puerto Rico where they visited 10 cities.

Part of the vacation was spent in the island. Mr. Ervin is circulation manager at The Recorder.

The Ervins left here Monday, July 17, and motored to New York City. Enroute they were special guests of Richard Henderson, former Recorder society editor, in Philadelphia.

Arriving in New York City Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Ervin were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Morton and family. They left New York and boarded a 707 Boeing Airliner Jet to begin their three hour-20 minute ride to Puerto Rico. This was the couple's first time to fly by Jet. Both agreed it was a smooth, comfortable and "peaceful" ride. The Ervins were among 174 passengers aboard the Jet which was filled to capacity.

Arriving in San Juan (which is 1,634 miles from New York) The Ervins registered at the Antilles Guest House and went sightseeing. Mrs. Ervin was most fascinated by the beauties nature had created including the lovely flowers, and trees in bloom.

On a trip by car high in the mountains The Ervins viewed a long forest full of fruit trees. Most noticeable were the brightly colored orchid plants and banana trees.

Mr. Ervin said that the El Yunque Rain Forest was a national shrine and they were there when the people celebrated their independence day — July 25 (similar to the American July 4). He also noted that it rains every day in the forest.

In San Juan The Ervins were guests of Rev. and Mrs. Jose Caleb Principe. Rev. Principe, a 28-year-old minister, is pastor of the Villa Palmera Christian Church. The Scholarship Fund Made in Alexander Will

Mrs. Lillie B. Alexander, 870 W. 9th, who died May 27, 1961, left a will with an unusual trust feature. The will, bearing the date of April 6, 1959, designated Mrs. Jennette S. Carey, retired public school principal, as executrix.

A trust created names the Merchants National Bank and Trust Company as trustee to administer what is to be known as the William H. Alexander, Hazel J. Alexander and Lillie B. Alexander Scholarship Fund.

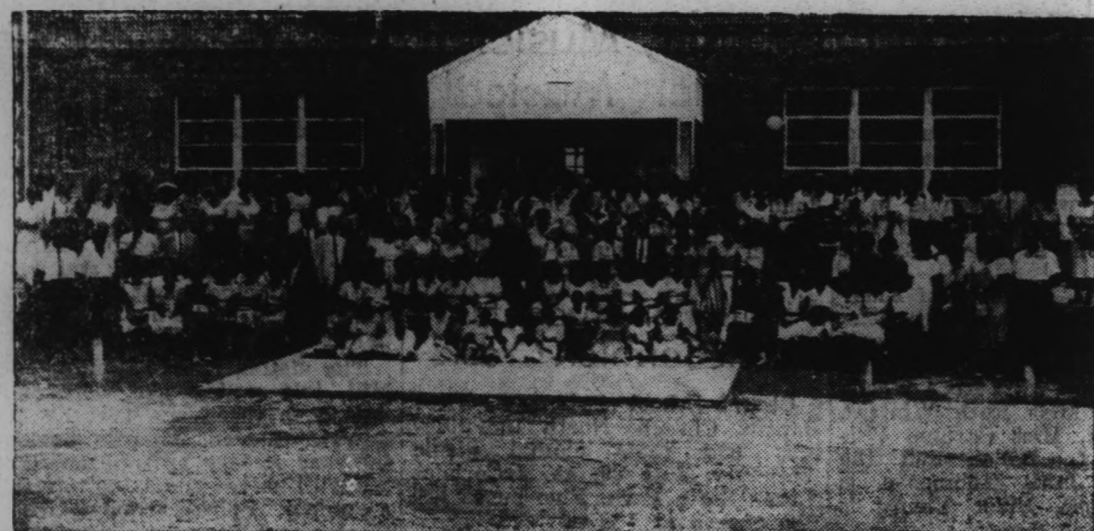

Mrs. Carey, as executrix, is authorized to administer the estate and to turn over to the Merchants Bank all funds and property and the income from the operation of the trust is to be made available each year for a scholarship or scholarships, as the case might be, to a graduating senior or graduates seniors of Crispus Attucks High School.

By the terms of the trust feature of the will the money is to aid them (Attucks graduates) in a college or university education, and those worthy of its benefits are to be determined by the trustee who is to rely solely upon the judgement of the Attucks scholarship committee.

The trust is to be a perpetual trust. The trustee may use its own judgement as to when it is advisable to sell any of the real estate held by it.

Prior right to buy the real estate is to be extended to Mrs. Vivian Terry Moore at its appraised value and then be offered to the general public in the event Mrs. Moore does not signify her intention to buy it within a reasonable time.

In a council hearing date of December 12, 1959, the will is amended to designate the Merchants Bank as executor, also, in the event Mrs. Carey, for any reason, is unable to serve.

The picture shows Bishop and Mrs. F. S. Anderson, host supervisors, general missionary officers, faculty and students. Special courses in missionary training were offered.

CHURCH EVENTS

By WILLA THOMAS

It was a wonderful weekend. Various church school students went on picnics last Saturday.

A WELCOME is extended to all fellow Baptists who will be here next week for the Indiana Baptist State Convention at New Bethel Baptist Church.

REV. LANDRUM SHIELDS, assistant pastor at Witherspoon Presbyterian Church, is in Europe on a goodwill fellowship tour. Rev. Shields is a sponsor of the 30 young people who are visiting Presbyterian churches and mission stations in Europe.

IN THE MAIL this week is a letter from Rev. David Batton in the Philippines. Rev. Batton is grateful to churches who helped him while he was here in school.

ALSO IN THE MAILBAG is a letter from Rev. Cottman in Liberia. He reports that they need $75,000 to put up a school, church and homes on the mission station. I hope members of the National Baptist Convention of America who are able will give liberally to help with the building program.

VACATION CHURCH SCHOOL was in progress this week at Copin Chapel AME Church. It closed Friday with a special program presented by the children.

CHURCHES WHICH HAVE Boy Scout work might be interested in a packet recently released by Bethany Press entitled "God and Country Award Handbook for Boy Scouts and Their Pastors." It was compiled by Rev. William Session.

The packet can be obtained at the mission building Bethany Book Store on Downey Avenue in Irvington. So many boys and girls leave churches because there is no scout program. I plead with every church, pastor and worker to organize a scout unit in your church.

WORD COMES from Evansville disclosing the sickness of Dr. L. A. McIntyre, pastor of McFarland Baptist Church. Dr. McIntyre is in Welborn Hospital. Let us pray for him and send cards.

LOCAL DELICATES and those throughout the state going to the National Baptist Convention of America meeting next month in San Francisco are urged to secure clergy books from Dr. T. R. Hendon in Chicago.

Write to him at 3993 South Parkway. We have been invited to join the Chicago delegation. Three different tours going out of Chicago have been planned.

Meals at the convention will be at the following prices: breakfast, 75c, and dinner, $1. Rooms are: single, $3 per night, and double, $4 per night. Write Rev. G. L. Bedford at 2135 Sutter, San Francisco, now for home reservations.

Next week I will give train rates. If you plan to go by bus, contact Mrs. Anna Washington. I HOPE ALL CHURCHES will support the Church Federation. It is doing an excellent job and does need help. Why not arrange to take an offering and send it along to the Federation office, 1622 N. Meridian.

TWO SUMMER CAMPS sponsored by the Indiana Presbyterian churches will have good attendance from churches including Witherspoon Presbyterian. About 26 sessions are scheduled at Camp Poca near Brownstown and Camp Kosciusko on Winona Lake.

"Wilderness" camping has been expanded this year. Purpose of the camp is the development of Christian character through group living and learning.

Other churches which will sponsor similar camps will be the AME and General Baptist State Convention under Dr. R. T. Andrews, state president, and Mrs. Emma Edwards, camp director.

YOU ARE INVITED to attend daily prayer meetings at 10 a.m. at 26th Street Baptist Church.

THE 18,000 MIGRANTS who will come to Indiana this year to help with the crops will need help. Missionaries can aid in this ministry by sending a donation to the Indiana Council of Churches, 1622 N. Meridian.

I like to think of those Christians, who while on this earth, served God and his church well. Such a fine Christian died last week. She proved her love for God by being faithful to his church—Christ Missionary Baptist—where Rev. W. M. Edwards is minister. Mrs. Josephine Allen was a fine member according to her minister. She could be counted on to work for God. Mrs. Allen was a member of the Evening Choir and Sisters of Help.

General services were held last Monday at Patton Funeral Home. Her members and workers turned out in white as a special tribute to her faithfulness. She shall never be forgotten by those who loved her.

CONGRATULATIONS to Mrs. Johnston.

Richmond Girl Is Re-elected Head Of Baptist Group

More than 200 boys and girls throughout the state attended the annual session of the Indiana Baptist State Starlight Band last Thursday at College Avenue Baptist Church.

Rev. Otis Armistead was host pastor. Theme of the convention was "In God I Will Trust and Not Be Afraid." Mrs. L. B. McKay is sponsor of the Band.

Miss Judith Ann Ross of Richmond was re-elected president of the group and Miss Sandra Kay Williams of Indianapolis was elected vice-president.

Other officers are: Miss Mary Williams, second vice-president; Darryl Armistead, secretary; Miss Betty Reiders, assistant secretary; Miss Carol Armistead, pianist and Mrs. Lenora Whitfield, chorister. Officers were installed by Mrs. H. T. Toliver.

During the meeting Mrs. Vera Ross, director of the Band, was presented a token of appreciation from the National Baptist children's department of the Senior Women's Convention of which Mrs. A. L. Lewis is supervisor. She was given the award by Miss Willa Thomas, instructional supervisor for the national children's group. Mrs. Ross is a member of Mt. Moriah Baptist Church at Richmond where Rev. McCoy is pastor.

Remarks at the convention were made by Mrs. Anna Washington, state president of the Home and Foreign Missionary Convention; Dr. H. T. Toliver, Parent Body president; Mrs. G. L. Lillard, chairman of the board of education for the Women's Convention and Rev. C. V. Jetter, pastor of Shiloh Baptist Church.

Speakers included Rev. Fletcher Grundy, associate minister at College Avenue Baptist.

Walter M. Edwards or 17th Street Baptist Church, who was elected 2nd vice-president of the Women's State Baptist General Convention held last week at Fort Wayne.

Mrs. Lillian Hall of Second Baptist Church was re-elected president. A congratulatory message also goes to James Travis Fowler of Second Christian Church, who was appointed secretary of the Commission for the Christian Youth Fellowship in Indiana. He will represent the group in a meeting next month at Ann Arbor at an international conference of young people.

Start the day right by listening to "Chapel Doors" on WISH-TV at 7:30 a.m. each morning. The program is sponsored by the Church Federation.

IF YOU PLAN to enroll in the study course this fall on the "Life of Jesus," which begins Sept. 30, write to DePauw University at Greencastle. Sponsors are the Church Federation and the Indiana Council of Churches.

REV. B. T. ALMON, pastor of Canaan Baptist Church, has returned home from the hospital and is improved according to reports. Let us remember Rev. Albert Batts and other shut-ins in prayer. Rev. Batts remains in Flower Mission Hospital.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results — here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids — without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observation. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H®. Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

Vatican Issues Survey of World Social Problems

VATICAN CITY—Pope John XXIII last week-end issued a wide-ranging new encyclical on social problems of the world, calling on the people of the world to cooperate.

He said that a "fruitful and lasting" peace is not possible if there is too great a difference between social and economic conditions of people.

POPE JOHN called for industry to limit profits and make sure that the working man receives a wage that allows him to live in dignity. He reaffirmed the Roman Catholic Church's traditional stand on the rights of private property. However, he declared socialization does not turn men into automatons if it "confines its activity within the limits of the moral order."

The encyclical, titled "Mater et Magistra"—meaning "mother and teacher"—was 25,000 words long, the longest in the history of the Roman Catholic Church. It was issued in commemoration of the 70th anniversary of the "Rerum Novarum" (of new things) issued by Pope Leo XIII May 15, 1891. The "Rerum Novarum" is the basic document of the church's modern attitude on social problems.

In the first full statements of the church's attitude toward social problems in three decades, Pope John, son of a farmer, bore down heavily on the problems of the individual. He made striking points (in part, noted) as follows:

"Great remuneration" is made for some task of doubtful value while "the diligent and profitable work of whole classes of decent hard-working men receive a payment that is much too small."

BUT "WORKERS should be paid a wage which allows them to live a truly human life and to face up with dignity to their family responsibilities . . ."

In taking cognizance of "the fruits of production," Pope John (the encyclical) said: "Every effort must be made so that at least in the future only a just share of the fruits of production be permitted to accumulate in the hands of the wealthy and that an ample sufficiency be supplied to the workingmen."

However, and strikingly, he said, "Private property is an element, that cannot be substituted in an ordered and productive social life."

Again the encyclical said, "So long as socialization confines its activity within the limits of the moral order . . . it does not of its nature entail serious dangers or restriction to the development of individual human beings; rather it helps to promote in them the expression and development of truly personal characteristics."

IN A FURTHER provocative observation the encyclical said, "There must be social justice between different economic sectors within nations, particularly for agriculture, which is depressed in most parts of the world."

There was a striking and apparent reference to Communist nations and the Pope has previously described materialistic Communism as the "new, grave and at times perilous problem of our epoch."

In keeping with the scheduled distribution and publication in numerous languages, no other document of this history of the Roman Catholic Church will compare with the new encyclical.

Valparaiso U. Human Rights Institute Has Record Enrollment

VALPARAISO — The largest enrollment in the history of the Valparaiso University Institute on Human Relations was recorded this past weekend when some 360 delegates and participants from all over the world were present on campus.

Officials of the Lutheran Human Relations Association of America announced Monday.

Attendees ranged from California to New York and northern Minnesota to Florida in addition to Nigeria and Hong Kong. A new MIND OF CHRIST award instituted by the LHRAA this year in recognition of years of high service to the cause of improved human relations in the church was conferred on the Rev. Leslie Frerking, pastor of Ascension Lutheran Church of Charlotte, N.C., and president of the Southern District of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

The presentation was made at the annual banquet by the Rev. Dr. Thomas Coates, head of the religion department at Concordia Senior College, Ft. Wayne, and vice-president of LHRAA.

LHRAA President Rev. Clemence Sabourin, pastor of Mt. Zion Lutheran Church of New York City, was overcome by heat at the banquet and confined overnight for observation at Porter Memorial Hospital. He was released Sunday in apparent excellent condition.

Two changes were recorded in the annual elections of the group. Miss Lois Dorow, St. Louis, was elected secretary of the group and Helen Cocker, Chicago, was named officer-at-large.

The Revs. Sabourin and Coates were returned to office as was Virgil Naumann, treasurer of Tulsa, Okla.

Work Campers Visit First Baptist

Two visitors were guests recently at First Baptist Church, North Indianapolis, and attended the Church School. They spoke before about 500 youths.

Miss Anna Calvin of Stillwater College at Tuscaloosa, Ala., and Miss Laurie Sidhom of Cairo, Egypt, are work campers at the Eastside Planner House Project.

When Miss Sidhom expressed surprise at the amount of religious material available to the children and said they needed such supplies in Egypt, the group decided to send religious pictures and stories to her country.

The Letha Ervin Sunday School Class will be in charge of the project. A letter was recently sent to the church in Egypt telling of the project. Large pictures, donated by the Cradle Roll Department, will go to the foreign youths.

Persons wishing to help in this project should contact Miss Willa Thomas at The Recorder office for instructions on how to ship the material and where it should be sent.

Out of The Woods

By RON WOODS

NEW NAMES (In The News):

The Peter Howard-Annie Miller thing is off again. After she slapped his face . . . Niptown's Bob Monday who used to go steady with Gary socialite Gloria Jean Walton before she married Bill Wright is going steady with her again and they're also going to Chicago to attend the opening of their friend Carlisle Dickson's new Orchard Room . . . Dalph Cox's kid brother, Johnny, who lives in Muncie and attended Butler here, has signed to model for a men's mag in Chicago, or so his brother tells me . . . The Russell Hunter-Doris Bradley hap'nins is turning into one of those Marilyn Monroe things if you know what I mean.

STOP PRESS: As predicted here, Janet Floyd's photo is in this week's Jet Magazine which could be (We Hope) a good credit for her, but somehow I got credit for taking the picture when it was actually taken by Jim Burris, our No. 1 camera-man and one of the kingpins of cheese-cake photography anywhere. It is worthy of note that Jim has helped a lot to develop Janet's electric charm and someday Janet's gonna make the big time and I hope the first thing she does is choose Jim for her personal photographer (which is what we won't go into).

... Dave Barnes, the crooner, tells me he remembers when women thought nothing of baking and cooking. Nowadays they don't think much of it either . . . Dot was Joan Bailey (in a Bikini) with Jack Donaldson on the beach. I wonder if she ever looks back to the old days when she bailed Mike Sheppard out of real trouble—only to see him wind-up marrying Pearl Wright (or is that Wrong?)

I got a note from Raymond Mutton of Evansville. He says he would like to wed Diane Hall of Indianapolis . . . William (Tex) Louis always keeps his character. Wore boots and cowboy tie with his tux when he dated busty Sheila Wilson, a former Shortridge Sugar . . . Ben Woodson and sassy Sunny Gade showed up together at the Ray Charles dance and I wonder what ever happened to Elaine Rogers but that was so long ago . . . Did I note that Harold Taylor is dating Lois Maxwell and what kind of combo is that? . . . Beverly Artis and Mike Poole? Impossible! . . . Young Douglas James believes in dating far in advance. Asked Cath Croxy to join him for a week at Idlewild as soon as she finishes high school, which won't be for two years . . . Note to Ruth Ford in Anderson: Fate is like a butterfly, which when we pursue it is always beyond our grasp, but which, if we sit down quietly, may alight upon us.

WHO'S WHO (In Niptown): Talking about people who made Niptown famous, let us remember my friend Lennie Lawrence, the med student, who helps to keep it going. Lennie, Bill Raspberry and Wallace Terry are all big news anywhere. And a more sensitive, self-critical, intelligent and dedicated group of guys you never saw in your life.

Bill, as you remember, was the compiler of "Chatter For The College Set" in this newspaper. A remarkably promising journalist, he is presently finishing a hitch in Sam's Clan and it is rumored he may stay in Washington, D.C., to work on a newspaper there. He's a great guy.

Wally, who has just about every college degree offered, is still a top reporter for the Washington Post-Times Herald. So far he has covered many major assignments for the Post including the demonstration at the UN in New York. I have many reasons to admire Wally but one uppermost is his great ability to make himself liked and respected by all people.

Lennie, to say the least, is a serious nonconformist with strong personal values. Time nor space will permit a justified sketch of the versatile Mr. Lawrence, who I hear will finish med school shortly, but these three guys have done a lot for Naptown and have definitely succeeded in setting an excellent example for all of us here who realize that learning and knowledge affect every aspect of life.

THIS IS (The End): Niptown's saying that during his recent visit to Anderson, Ward Griffin and Dorothy Hines finally agreed to disagree and is a nursing student named Yolanda Farquhar the reason? . . . The Carol Williams-Marcus Phelps thing is turning out to be more serious than we thought . . . Dave Scruggs switching to Miriam Pipes. Oooops!

WOODS OF WISDOM: GALS who are ambitious and Look delicious seldom wind up doing the dishes . . . Like, BOOM!

AME Group Granted Bar Against Pastor

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (ANP)—The congregation which voted last week to withdraw from the AME denomination has succeeded in maintaining its bar against the assigned minister for another 60 days.

CONGREGATION "DISSATISFIED" The congregation is dissatisfied with the assessments levied against the church and the removal of Dr.

QUIT CONFERENCE Since then the congregation has quit the conference and declared itself an independent church.

On July 14 the church declared the pulpit vacant, and Bishop Reid has been notified of all actions taken by the group.

The petitioners for the injunction are asking the court to decide whether, under the separation status, the bishop's word is still law.

N. Y. Solon Assails Apprenticeship Bias

Subcommittees of the U. S. House Committee on Education and Labor have held several hearings in recent weeks relating to proposals or bills relating to expansion of apprenticeship training programs for future or potential workers in the nation's industries.

The U. S. Department of Labor advocates a new or very extensive program of the apprenticeship training to meet the challenge of using a larger measure of the nation's productive potential and to meet new needs for skilled workers in the further trend to automation of industry.

Congressman Adam Clayton Powell (Dem., N. Y.) chairman of the House Committee on Education and Labor observed recently that he was in full accord with objectives of the U. S. Department of Labor. But he announced that he would oppose any program sponsored by the federal government continuing restrictive practices or policies and patterns. These related to manners of bias or religious and racial discrimination as reflected widely in business and industry over our country.

Mr. Powell said, "The federal government cannot be a party to or continue any benefits upon an apprenticeship training program which discriminates against qualified applicants on the basis of race, color or creed."

Surveys indicate that under existent apprenticeship programs members of minority groups including Negro workers have been granted very limited, token enrollment in only a few of the building, graphic arts and service trades. They are almost excluded completely from transportation and metal craft trades, Mr. Powell observed.

Mr. Powell announced very recently that he is sponsoring a bill which would prevent any business or labor organization from securing federal assistance or benefit from the establishment or operation of an apprenticeship program which is in the slightest way tinged with bigotry.

Some labor leaders have frowned on the announcement or position of Mr. Powell. Otherwise it has been charged that the U. S. Labor Department or the Administration at least may be confronted with some embarrassment if he continues in his position on the issue or program. Mr. Powell may not prove equal to a stand against all parties of opposing views on the issue or program but his convictions or views have their parallel on other fronts and in the campaign against intolerance or bigotry and racial or religious prejudices.

Philadelphia Story

In a front page article last month, the Wall Street Journal had some salient things to say about the power of Negro consumers to make their money work for them to achieve social change.

It points out that the Negro market has a purchasing power of nearly $20 billion — almost equal to that of all Canada — and this purchasing power can be a tremendous weapon in the fight for equal job opportunities.

This bible of the financial and business world, describes at length the "Selective Patronage Program" over 400 Philadelphia ministers conducted last year that caused a dozen big companies to hire more Negroes.

The 400 ministers organized a system of sporadic trade boycotts, which they can turn on and off with blitzkrieg speed, against Philadelphia companies guilty of discrimination in their hiring policies.

The success of this program last year in Philadelphia, the Journal points out, indicate that this form of intermittent shopping pressure may soon spread to other major cities where Negroes make up a sizeable part of the population.

We heartily agree with the Wall Street Journal and we think it is about time that Californians in general and Angelenos in particular got into the act.

The Wall Street Journal's figures of $20 million purchasing power for 19 million Negroes means that in California with a million Negroes we have a billion dollar purchasing power. Brother, that ain't hay!

With two-thirds of that million in Southern California, the Negro community represents a sleeping giant that needs some direction in the constructive use of this tremendous weapon to wipe out the problem of job discrimination that blights our community.

We don't know by what magic the Negro community of Philadelphia managed to unite 400 Negro ministers into a striking force that could effectively turn off and on economic boycotts.

However, the Philadelphia ministers have proved to the financial and industrial giants of America that Negroes know that money talks, and Negroes are ready, willing and able to put their money where their mouths are in the struggle for full integration into the economy of their respective communities.

It is now against the law in California to discriminate in job opportunities. That is well and good. This political victory needs implementation with the big guns of economic boycotts if we expect to win the battle of equality or job opportunity.

When Publisher Leon H. Washington, Jr., through the Sentinel launched "Don't Spend Your Money Where You Can't Work" campaign in 1933 we had a tight little community where purchasing power affected a few stores along Central Ave.

Today, the large, dispersed Negro community, with its tremendous purchasing power, can use the more sophisticated tactic of the indirect boycott. Such a program calls for greater organization, communication planning and cooperation than the direct attack of picket lines.

The Philadelphia story should wake our community up. Caught in the squeeze of "last hired, first fired," automation, inflation, recessions, and most important — discriminatory hiring policies — the Negro breadwinner faces a bleak future.

We suggest that this future can be brightened by intelligent use of our purchasing power.

We propose that an Economic Advisory Council be organized by the religious, business, political, civic and social leaders of our community.

A Council organized for the express purpose of achieving the spirit as well as the letter of the FEP law.

It is high time we organized to take our economic future in our own hands. Just as the Freedom Riders are crumbling the walls of segregation, we must organize to beat down the walls of job discrimination.

The Philadelphians have pointed the way. Let's get started on the Los Angeles story.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Dorcias, Woman of Good Works

REV. J. T. HIGHBAUGH, Editor

LARGER LESSON: Acts 9:36-43; Rom. 12:1, 2; Eph. 2:10. LESSON PRINT: Acts 9:36-43. TIME: 40 A.D. PLACE: Joppa. MOTTO TEXT: Heb. 13:16.

The setting of our previous lessons have been in one of the four gospels. The other eight lessons will be in the Acts of the Apostles. When you read of the enthusiasm with which they worked, you are compelled to call it the Acts of the Holy Spirit. It is more than history. It is His story breaking through the lives of men and women.

Think of Dorcas as follows please: I. Deeds, duds and dollar Christianity (Acts 9:36). II. Standing up when sickness or death comes (Acts 9:37-39). III. Expecting the best amid the worst (Acts 9:40). IV. What are you doing today? (Acts 9:41-43, Romans 12:1, 2)

DEEDS, DUDS AND DOLLAR CHRISTIANITY. Dorcas was never known to preside at a meeting or take the minutes of the day. She did not have the rare ability of a Lydia or the simple devotion of a Mary. She had the "do what I can" ability of a Martha.

Being transformed within, she learned to do what her hands found to do and derived the name "Dorcias" among the Jews, "Tabitha" in the Aramaic language and "Gazelle" among the Greeks.

These words in their own languages suggest the idea of beauty and fleetness of mind like we have herein manifested in her life. One could well say of her, "Beauty is as beauty does."

This holy woman saw her Lord in every ragged child, neglected widow and hurt soul. "Inasmuch as ye have one it unto the least of my brethren, ye have done it unto me" (Matt. 25:40-45) is her theme song. This is the fundamental heartbeat of Christian mission: concern for the least, last and lost or compassion for the man lowest down. She is Solomon's virtuous woman. "She layeth her hand to the spindle" (Prov. 31:10-31).

STANDING UP WHEN SICKNESS AND DEATH COME. No one seems able to tell why sickness darkened her door. Job could inform us of the inner misery of wondering why these things happen.

Have you had to stand by a friend all the long, long day? Around her gathered those who had been blessed by her nimble fingers. After only a short illness, she was gone to her long, long rest. As the night shades darkened her way, she could say: I've done my work I've sung the song I've done some good I've done some wrong So I must go Where I belong—The Lord has willed it so.

And oh the strength of these widows who stood by and up with her. They never forgot her kindness in their lifetime. They brought every garment and kept them as hallowed garments to present to the preacher, Simon Peter, so that he might see them. They sent for him in times of sickness. They needed his counsel and prayers. He laid aside his busy work in Lydia and came gladly.

EXPECTING THE BEST AMID THE WORST. This incident of the raising of Dorcas is almost synonymous with the raising of Jarius' daughter (Mark 5:38-43). No doubt Peter was perplexed as to what to do or say in this sudden bereavement.

I know I am often puzzled as to what to say, do or advise. When the setting was almost identical, he seemed to take heart and take over. His memory seemed to re-picture the scene at Jarius' house. He seemed to gather the expectancy and composure of his Master.

He prayed as to the "Resurrection and the Life" (John 11:25) and took command over himself, the mourners and Dorcas in Jesus' name. I cannot tell you how it happened. If I could, the supernatural would drop out. We would have no good news.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING TODAY? This lesson would mean nothing if it did not awaken a prayer in your heart and put a light in your heart. Can you not appreciate the Maude Fullers of Austin, the Anna Washingtons of Indianapolis, the Mary Jane Woods of San Antonio, the Bell Hendons of Chicago or the Edna Martins and Elsie Clarks of our own East and West side community centers?

These all wrought righteousness, obtained promises and subdued kingdoms out of the practical into the sublime. "What are you doing here Elijah?" asked the Lord of his faithful prophet.

Are you carrying the load up the lonely road Where danger and trouble await?

Is the widow's plight and the orphan's long night

A part of your dreary fate? Are you paying the cost of the last and the lost

As they struggle up the hill? Then you've taken His cross At your humble post In doing your Master's will.

We Have Pitched Ourselves Into A Hole On Sex

By Andrew W. Ramsey

There are no problems confronting American and Western society more acute than those connected with race except those rising from sex. The problems surrounding race and sex could easily be the undoing of the United States and Western civilization.

Science relegated what we used to think that we knew about race to the realm of mythology, but with sex it is another matter. Sex is real but a sadly neglected driving force of homo sapiens.

H. G. Wells in the "Science of Life" points out that it has always been characteristic of the primates to make a great deal of fuss over sex as a visit to the monkey house at the zoo will confirm. But the fuss that we Americans are making over it is no laughing matter.

Daily the headlines tell us of the ramifications of our inefficiency in dealing with what Sigmund Freud called the dominant drive in human society. Two security agents flee to Russia after being blackmailed into delivering American secrets. Why? Because they were homosexuals, and immediately thereafter a couple of dozen security employees were dropped from their jobs on the grounds that they were sex deviates and therefore subject to similar blackmail. Louisiana legislators got the headlines a few months ago when they cried out against giving welfare support to a mushrooming group of unwed mothers.

Local and national health authorities are appalled at the rapid increase of venereal disease among children and minors.

CRIMES OF PASSION: The tragic ending of love triangles; the shooting of a high and well respected local executive by his discarded mistress; the almost supplanting of the old time prostitute by gold-digging "respectable" women, married and single, and the rising divorce rate—all of these coupled with homosexuality, and sexual attacks upon little children—warn us that we have made a mess of the management of sex.

What are the causes for these outrages which seem to be practically absent from the Orient?

Number one is a prudishness which stems from our Puritan background. We have been brought up to ignore the basic facts of sex, and most of the words pertaining to sexual organs and their functions are taboo in our society. True, everybody knows the moral person then the one who has never been caught deviating from the straight and narrow sexual path. It is more damaging to a public figure to have been caught lying or stealing than to be accused of frequenting the wrong bed.

Our very prudishness allows us to fall prey to those who trade in sex. The popular writers, the television, the radio and Hollywood have exploited sex to the fullest. The advertising industry has used sex to sell all manner of articles from facial tissue to beer and from cigarettes to automobiles. Sponsors of TV shows want them to be replete with either sex or violence or both.

Of course we have laws dealing with sex but in the main they are both outmoded and ineffective as preventives of sexual delinquencies. They are based upon the moral codes of people who lived centuries ago and they have not had the guidance of modern science. It is the considered opinion of many psychologists that it is possible to detect early certain socially antagonistic sexual tendencies and that it is possible to prevent the development of individuals with these tendencies into socially dangerous adults.

THERE ARE SEX LAWS which are designed to prevent the sexual cohabitation of non-white males and white females. Back of these laws there are no scientific bases; they are merely the points where our racial and sexual problems coincide.

The role of sex in juvenile delinquency is a major one and "rear after year the number of high school dropouts by teen age girls who are expectant mothers keeps mounting, and the social burden of caring for the children of these unfortunates falls upon the hapless tax-payer.

It is not enough to view the situation with alarm. Something should be done about sex just as something is being done about heart disease and cancer, but before anything can be done we must give up our foolish habit of burying our heads in the sand whenever sex is mentioned outside of our favorite TV programs.

We must face the facts about sex just as we are beginning to face them about mental illness. To advocate mental health is not to advocate abstinence from thinking and to advocate a sane approach to the problems of sex is not to say that the answer is the total abstinence from sex.

Letters to the Editor...

Khrushchev's Threat Is No Joke Recorder Reader Writes

To The Editor:

Mr. Khrushchev is rattling his sword. He said he would "bury America." It seems to me he is not joking. He is aiming at America and England.

In every corner of the globe, these two nations are known as Christian nations because they believe in spreading the gospel to the ends of the earth.

Mr. Khrushchev is getting ready to sign a peace treaty with East Germany. According to the Bible, he can't help himself. The Prophet Isaiah tell us of a large nation and combination of nations.

We see how many nations are under the wings of Russia. Look at Cuba next door to America rattling her sword. Castro is trying to make America furnish the machinery to put hundreds of acres of land in shape so that when Russia sends in all their Migs and fighting dogs, he will have places ready for them.

The sun will not shine on certain places because airplanes, Migs, jets and bombers will be so thick in the air. Moscow is noted for planes carrying thousands of pounds of high explosives.

Russia will unite all Germany according to the Bible or history. Germany will be her stronger ally. Russia has the largest standing army in the world. She is not ready to fight and is only bluffing now.

Sen. Thomas Dodd (Dem., Conn.) warned the Senate that British Guiana may go Communist in the Aug. 21 election. That would give Castro and Khrushchev a stronghold in South America.

Household Hints

Ice-cube trays filled with hot water and put in the freezing compartment of the refrigerator will do a quick job of defrosting.

This is the sort of hint which makes you wonder why you didn't think of it years ago. To keep your chocolate cakes from having white streaks on the brown crusts, dust the greased cake pans with cocoa instead of flour.

When ironing dollies, place flat on board and beginning in the center, iron to the outside, always with the thread.

When storing tennis rackets, rub the strings with vaseline to keep them from snapping.

Reporter Praised For Reporting On Jehovah Witnesses' Meeting

To The Editor:

The Recorder is to be commended for the announcement of the visit of Robert C. Armour, circuit supervisor, at the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses, 725 E. 27th. The reporting was accurate and to the point. This was greatly appreciated by all of the Jehovah Witnesses in Indianapolis of which there are approximately 1,200 active members.

All 12 congregations permit any and all races to attend any meeting they may desire. The downtown congregation which Mr. Armour visited during the past week is about 75 percent colored and 25 percent white.

A wonderful week of Christian activity and fellowship was enjoyed with an increase in attendance of 50 percent above normal for the final public talk, "Materialism Or Spirituality. Which Do We Need?" We honestly feel that the excellent write-up in The Recorder played an important role in this increased attendance and we are grateful.

Douglass Little League Wins Way to State Tourney

STARS OF THE STARS: The Douglass Little Leaguers play as a team, but some of the leading individual performers are (left to right) Steve Dunville, slugging 1st baseman; Gregory Northington, ace right-handed pitcher who also walloped a home run in district title game; Michael Moss, left field, and Sammy McBee, right field, who are the "Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris" of the Eastside club when it comes to knockin' 'em over the fence. Douglass also reached state playoffs in 1958, but lost in first round that year.

DOUGLASS IN STATE: Representing District 8 in the Little League state playoffs next week will be the Douglass All-Stars. Left to right, standing, are Coach Ortha Hamler, Sammy McBee, Ronnie Clark, William Mansfield, Gregory Northington, Frank Johnson, Steve Dunville, Mason

Eastside Small-Stars In Playoffs 2nd Time

The Douglass Little League All-Stars will make their second appearance in four years in the State Tournament when it begins Wednesday at Indiana Central.

Two hitting rallies and a spectacular game-saving stop by Dwight "Butch" Blue gave Douglass a 7-5 victory over Brownsburg and the District 8 championship in a thriller played at Meadows last Saturday. The win qualified Douglass for next week's 8-team state playoffs.

Things looked bad for the Douglass team as Brownsburg took a 3-0 lead in the top of the 1st inning. But the Eastsiders didn't give up. They broke into the scoring column when pitcher Gregory Northington blasted a home run in the 2nd.

Trailing 3-1 with 2 out in the 3rd, Douglass loaded the bases as Michael Jones walked, Steve Dunville singled and Northington walked. Sammy McBee then slashed a double that drove in 3 runs. The following batter, Michael Moss, also hit to score McBee, giving Douglass a 5-3 lead.

BROWNSBURG BATTLED BACK to tie it in the 4th. But Douglass went ahead for good in the 5th when Moss poled one out of the park.

A nice bit of base-running added an insurance run. William Mansfield was on 3rd and Carlton Chaney on 1st when speedy Ronald Clark was sent in to run for Chaney. Clark and Mansfield then executed a double steal to make it 7-5.

All the fireworks were not over, however. Battling right down to the wire, Brownsburg put runners on 2nd and 3rd with 2 out in the last inning. The next batter slashed a hard-hit grounder to Blue at 2nd base and when the ball took a hop, it had "tied score" written all over it. But Blue made good catch and threw the batter out to end the game.

TWO DAYS EARLIER Mansfield, a southpaw, hurled a one-hit shutout as Douglass turned back Brownsburg, 2-0, to advance to the title game. Pat Blue caught for the Douglass team in both contests.

THE SECOND TRIP to the state playoffs is a crowning achievement for the many Eastside civic and youth workers who have worked long and hard since the Douglass league was founded. Continued on Page 13

Mighty Mite Leads Defending Champs

GARY-A "mighty mite" who has reached base his last 12 times at bat leads the Anderson All-Stars of this city, Little League state champs who will begin defense of their title Wednesday at Indianapolis.

Walter Washington stands but 4 feet 6 inches and weighs only 85 pounds. Playing right field, he leads off the batting order for Anderson.

In the district championship game, in which Anderson defeated Jundale 6-3, Walter scored as many runs as the opposing team. He came to bat 3 times and crossed the plate 3 times, which ought to be par for the course. His hitting for the game was 2-for-3.

Walter is the only Negro player on the team. Anderson will meet the District 6 winner of Indianapolis at 1 p.m. Wednesday at Indiana Central College.

White's '2-Base Single' Brightens Dull Classic

BOSTON—Bill White's "two-base single" was the offensive highlight of the second 1961 major league All-Star game that ended in a 1-1 tie here Monday.

It was the first tie in All-Star history, a rather uninspiring statistic from a singularly uninspiring game. The contest added considerable support to the theory that two All-Star games is one too many.

Perhaps mindful of the Pacific Ocean's weather capers that spoiled the first classic at San Francisco on July 11, the staid Atlantic got into the act with winds that helped the pitchers.

Rocky Colavito hit a part-Chinese home run to the short left-field wall in the first inning for the Americans. They never got a man as far as 3rd again, with a Charles River breeze blowing hits back into fly balls.

LEADING OFF for the Nationals in the fifth, White brought the crowd of 31,851 to life. The big St. Louis 1st-sacker slashed what looked like an ordinary single to center field, but Bill had other plans in mind.

Running for 2nd with the crack of the bat, White dived in hands first to beat Mickey Mantle's throw for a double.

Bill was the hitting star of the afternoon for the Nationals. In the following inning he singled through the box to drive in Eddie Mathews with their only run.

White looked good a-field in the fifth. He grabbed Don Schwall's bunt and fired to 2nd to start a double play 3-6-4.

Maury Wills, Willie Mays and Eddie Kasko got singles for the Nationals, while Al Kaline picked up a pair of one-base blows and Brooks Robinson a singleton for the Americans.

Catcher Johnny Roseboro of the Dodgers struck out 3 times. It was that kind of an All-Star game.

THE PITCHERS LOOKED great, especially the Nationals' Stu Miller. In the ninth the Giant slow-baller fanned Mantle, Elston Howard and Roy Sievers in order.

But remembering how the Pacific monsoon blew him off the mound at San Francisco, one wondered whether the Atlantic wasn't helping Stu fool the batters. Maybe it's a pitcher's ocean.

And while the lusty young Pacific had been able only to make a farce of the earlier classic, the sly old Atlantic showed who was really boss. It blew in a rainstorm that wiped it all out.

Sifford Misses Milwaukee Money

MILWAUKEE (ANP)—Top-ranking golfer Charlie Sifford, apparently rusty after missing several all-white tournaments in the South, showed only flashes of his usual form and failed to finish in the money in the Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament last week.

It was one of the few times in recent months that Sifford had failed to show among the prize-winners. The tourney was won by Bruce Crampton of Australia, who collected $4,300 as first-place money.

Sifford's best showing came at the midway point, when he was in 11th place. In the 2nd round he had shot an impressive 67, three strokes behind Crampton, who fired a 64.

BAYLOR, HAWKINS IN CAGE CLINICS

By L. I. BROCKENBURY

LOS ANGELES (ANP)—Elgin Baylor and Tom Hawkins, Los Angeles Laker forwards, are being featured in a series of basketball clinics around Southern California.

Baylor is employed as public relations man for a savings and loan association. Hawkins, a graduate of Notre Dame, is an insurance salesman.

Yon Cassius Aims to Become Youngest King

LOUISVILLE (ANP)—Young Cassius Clay says he wants to become heavyweight champion before he is 21 and thus better the record set by Floyd Patterson. Clay is 18. Think he'll make it?

Last week the classy boxer-puncher, who has been nicknamed "The Louisville Slugger," won the most important fight of his short pro career. He outpunched veteran light-heavyweight Alonzo Johnson of Pittsburgh in a nationally televised 10-rounder at Freedom Hall here.

The victory gave Clay, who was 1960 Olympic light-heavyweight champion, his 8th straight win. Included among the ambitious fighter's knockout victims are Tony Esperti, Jimmy Robinson, Donnie Fleeman and Lamar Clark.

McClure Wins Another Pro Fite

CHICAGO (ANP)—Wilbert McClure, 1960 Olympic middleweight champion, stopped Moses Lockhart of Chicago on a TKO in the 3rd round of a scheduled 4-round here last week.

McClure, of Toledo, is unbeaten as a professional fighter.

2nd Olympic Development Meet Saturday

A second Olympic Development Track Meet will be held at 4 p.m. Saturday at Manual athletic field, it was announced by Powell Moorhead, director.

This week's events for men will include the 400-meter hurdles (36 inches); 800-meter run; 200-meter dash; 5,000-meter cross-country run; high jump; hop, step and jump; 16-lb. shot put, and hammer throw.

Carded for women are the 100-meter dash, 80-meter hurdles and 8-lb. shot put.

The meet is sponsored by the Indianapolis Track Club and sanctioned by the Indiana AAU. Entries will be accepted up to the time of the meet, Moorhead said.

AT LAST WEEK'S MEET, a battle of high school juniors saw Roy Thurman of Wood beating Terry Wiseman of Shortridge in the 100-meter dash. The time was 11.1 seconds.

A Shortridge winner last Saturday was Howard Maxey, who took the 400-meters in :52.8.

WEST, NORTH WIN ALL-STAR GAMES

The West slaughtered the East, 20-1, and the North rapped out a 14-5 victory over the South in Class D All-Star games of Junior Baseball on Sunday at Englehardt Stadium.

Sylvester Thorpe, 1st baseman for the North, won the Lew Hill Outstanding Player Award. He hit a home run with 2 on in the 2nd inning.

James Allen of Tarkington was one of the North managers.

Tan Gridders on Squad as Warriors Begin Practice

Several Negro gridders were among the 46 players for the Indianapolis Warriors, a new minor league professional football club, who began practice Tuesday at CYO Field.

In the list of survivors of the more than 200 prospects who showed up for the tryouts, The Recorder noted these familiar names:

Charles Bostic, Lincoln University and, if we are not mistaken, Evansville Lincoln high school; Jim Cornett, Attucks and Indiana Central; Joe King, Attucks and Indiana Central; Bob Maxey, Shortridge and Butler; Larry Williams, Tech and St. Joe; Orville Williams, Attucks and Butler; and Wilbert Winston, Wood high school.

Oddly enough, all these seven players are backfield candidates. Bostic is out for offensive fullback Larry Williams and Winston for offensive halfbacks. The others are going for defensive spots.

HEAD COACH GENE GEDMAN emphasized that the present group does not comprise the official squad that will begin play Sept. 16 at Cleveland.

"American and National Football League cuts will be tried out as they come down to us later this month," he explained.

"Also, we are constantly making individual contacts to bring boys in for tryouts between now and Sept. 1."

"After that we must cut the squad to the 30-player limit required by the United Football League."

Practice sessions will be held four nights a week, Tuesday through Friday, from 6:30 to 8:30 p. m.

Jesse Owens Offered Job by Hoffa After Losing State Post

CHICAGO (ANP)—Jesse Owens may not have hurt himself financially in supporting the unpopular and losing faction in a labor election here last week.

Owens, former Olympic track great whose service with the Illinois Youth Commission was terminated after he supported Joey Glimco in a taxi union election campaign, has been offered a job by Jimmy Hoffa.

The all-time cinder hero was attacked by the daily press for his support of Glimco.

Hoffa, czar of the powerful 1½-million-member Teamsters Union, also campaigned here for Glimco. The Teamster affiliate, Local 777 of the Chicago Taxicab Drivers Union, lost a representation election to a rebel union headed by Dominic Abata.

SPEAKING AT a rally of 500 cab drivers, Owens had urged that Glimco's union be retained as their bargaining agent.

Hoffa was disturbed by the unfavorable publicity received by Owens. It was learned that Jimmy met with Ray T. Schoesling, president of the Teamsters Joint Council 25, which represents all the union's affiliates here. Hoffa suggested that Owens immediately be offered a job with the Teamsters.

Owens' resignation from the Youth Commission was effective July 31. He had been receiving $7,400 a year for coordinating

ALTON SMITH

Alton Smith Tops Amateurs in Indianapolis Open

Tan golfers made a good showing in the Indianapolis Open held last week at Coffin Golf Course.

Alton Smith fired a 71-70—141 for low amateur honors in the meet and a 3rd-place tie in over-all standing. He took home a $150 merchandise award.

Forrest Jones, who recently represented this district in the U.S. Publix tourney, shot 71-73—144 to tie for 11th. John Green, pro at Douglass Golf Course, had 71-74 for 145 and a 15th-place tie.

OTHER SCORES noted by The Recorder included George Roddy, 149; Bill Car, 163; Bob Kent, 167; and Preston Roney, 172. Kent showed the most improvement during the two-day meet, with 93-74. Joe Campbell won the meet with 67-67—134.

University of Illinois with a Bachelor of Science degree in finance and economics. He was a member of the Illini football team in 1955-58.

Benson Guns At Zionsville

ZIONSVILLE—It was like old times here Sunday as "Shoot-'Em-Up" LeVern Benson fired 30 points to pace first-night scoring in the Zionsville outdoor basketball tournament.

Benson, one time Attucks gunner now at Miami of Ohio, led Gibraltar Insurance to a 79-60 victory over Bloomington. The Gibraltar team is composed of former Attucks stars including Larry McIntyre and Jerrv Trice.

THE FIFTH ANNUAL tournament resumed Wednesday, after this page went to press, and will continue Friday through Sunday nights and next Tuesday. Semifinals will be Friday, Aug. 11, and the championship game Sunday, Aug. 13.

Ronnie Thomas from Shortridge, the city's leading scorer last winter, is on the North Central quintet along with Walt Sahm of Cathedral and Dick Haslam of Butler.

DEATH COMES TO A GREAT CHURCHMAN... Death came to Bishop Arthur W. Womack Monday, as he slept peacefully in his bed at Methodist Hospital... It was the end of an illustrious career... as preacher, teacher, bishop... layman... scholar... Race man... and ardent NAACP worker.

HE was presiding bishop of the Fourth Episcopal District of the CME Church, which comprised Louisiana and Mississippi and West Africa. He had planned a trip to Europe to attend a religious conference before he was stricken with the illness that culminated in his death.

FUNERAL SERVICES for the prominent 70-year-old prelate will be held at 11 a. m. Monday at Phillips Temple on N. West St. where he pastored for seven years. Burial will be in Crown Hill Cemetery... and friends may call at Jacobs Brothers West Side Chapel Sunday.

WE FIRST met Bishop Womack back during the Twenties, when he pastored Phillips Temple in Dayton, Ohio. He used to come weekly to the Dayton Forum, where we worked. He loved to write articles for newspapers about his church... his denomination... and his people. He often told us that he would one day become a bishop in the great CME Church. This prediction later came true... and he was truly a living example of the religion he preached. Soft-spoken... calm and serene at all times... and cloaked with a humility that endeared him to men and women throughout the length and breadth of America.

HE ENJOYED traveling and meeting people with his familiar—Hello, son or daughter! He wanted to know what people were doing and how they were thinking. He would think nothing of jumping into his car and driving all the way to Georgia, Mississippi or any distant state or city. He was indeed, a tireless worker in the Lord's vineyard.

HE WAS proud of his ancestry... his Race... His people... He traveled all the way to Ghana for that country's Independence celebration, where he visited with Prime Minister Nkrumah and other dignitaries... but always as a representative of the great CME Church.

ONE OF THE HIGHLIGHTS of his career and the one he spoke more often of, was the raising of more than $50,000 for Paine College in Augusta, Ga., his alma mater. He enjoyed this work immensely... because he loved the school and all it stood for in our American life. He leaves this world with the sublime knowledge that he put more into it than he took from it. That's the kind of man he was... a true soldier of the Cross... working in the ranks... in the flanks... and in the top echelon. He cared not for the plaudits of man... knowing that there was a greater reward awaiting him in the great Valhalla where all men become equals. He died as he lived, true to the Cross of Calvary and the tenets of Christian religion.

BISHOP WOMACK was a native of Halifax, Va., not too far from where the writer was born... and had resided in Indianapolis for 29 years. Always on the go... always looking for New Frontiers for his people. He was indeed a pioneer in the religious field. He rose to the position of president of the Fraternal Council of Churches in America... and helped to establish his church's missionary service in Africa... a country he loved... making several trips to that country during his reign as bishop.

THE NATIONALLY-KNOWN Bishop was also founder of the church youth movement and was chairman of the Superannuated Preachers, Widows and Orphans Board of the church. He had been pastor of several churches in several metropolitan cities... and held A.B., M.A., D.D. and LL.D. degrees from outstanding colleges and universities. He was educated at both Howard University in Washington, D. C. and Paine College in Georgia.

VERY FEW PEOPLE know that the first CME Church was organized in the front room of his mother's home in Philadelphia, Pa... and this could have been the spark that set off the dynamic Christian aspiration of his esteemed soldier for Christ. Who knows? But from this humble beginning he emerged into a man of stature... in America and the world. What more can a man ask? The light has dimmed but the spark still flutters.

WE KNOW the Bishop's widow and son... daughter-in-law and grandson. They are all good people... and we extend to them our sincere condolences during their hour of bereavement. They have lost a good father and grandfather... and the city has lost a good citizen... and the nation has lost a good American... and the Negro Race has lost a vibrant voice in the fields of religion and civil rights... and the church has lost an indefatigable worker for the good of all humanity. His death leaves a void in the ranks of men in every country and clime. Peace to his ashes! (See story elsewhere for list of survivors).

Leonard Brothers—Paul, Chester and Richard, Naptown's gift to the entertainment world, are currently hoofing nately at the Fiesta Room in Idlewild, Mich. (nuf sed)... James Payne, the former bail bondsman and man-about-town, is in General Hospital on Ward A-2. Mr. Payne was rushed to the hospital last Monday suffering a heart condition... Mr. and Mrs. William Lawrence and William Rawlings of Detroit, Mich., spent last week here visiting relatives and friends and especially Mr. Rawlings' uncle Carl (politico) Anderson, Republican chairman of the 12th ward and a fighter for all the people all the time. 'Tis rumored that Carl will be running for a county office comes the next election... NOTE: We have a good bass fiddle cover (like new) for sale. Donated by Miss Hortense Bowman. Proceeds go to the Recorder Christmas Cheer Fund. Come and get it at your own price.

A SQUAWK comes in from a reader who says that his weekly pool number came out for $2,000 but it seems as if the agent didn't report him in for that week. He says he went out to the church's headquarters and talked to the persons in charge, but to date (2 months later) he has not received any loot. He feels he has a beef. But the ticket plainly says—No Pay, No Play... Mr. and Mrs. Thom Ervin are back from Puerto Rico, where they spent 2 glorious weeks and they really fell in love with the place... Mrs. Dorothy Clark is also back from a vacation spent in New York City with her mother... Fuller Products Company has opened a branch on N. Capitol Ave., and according to Mrs. Mattie Rice, who has been doing some public relations work for the firm, things are shaping up just fine for the local representatives.

MRS. MAE GRAHAM is back from a big vacation in Washington, D.C., Atlantic City and New York. Her cousin Billy Simpson, operates the Bill Simpson's House of Seafood and Steaks on Georgia Ave. in the nation's capital, and calls it "The Place Where Diplomats Meet to Eat."

METROPOLITAN OPERA TO PERFORM FOR INTEGRATED AUDIENCES IN ATLANTA

ATLANTA (ANP) — The Metropolitan Opera will perform for a week before desegregated audiences here next year under a policy announced last week by the Atlanta Music Festival Association.

Rudolph Bing, general manager of the Metropolitan, decreed earlier this year that no segregated audiences be permitted on future tours of the New York company.

It appeared that Atlanta might miss the Metropolitan next year because of the segregated-seating policy at the Fox Theater, the only auditorium here adequate to handle grand opera.

However, the Festival Association announced that arrangements had been made for it to take over exclusive control of the Fox for the opera week, starting April 30.

Former Choral Director Of Starlight in N. Y.

Mr. Edwin Biltcliffe, former choral director of Starlight Musicals for fourteen years, who left Indianapolis last fall, has established permanent headquarters in New York City. He is now assisting artist to Eleanor Steber and Mildred Miller of the Metropolitan Opera Company. He has toured and made recordings with both during the 1960-61 season. He has also recorded with tenor John McColum.

In the early spring of this year he made a contract with the Atlanta Theatre Under the Stars, as choral director, but asked to be released because of a series of concerts and recordings for a seminar to be held at the University of Syracuse, New York, this month.

Mrs. John Alden Carpenter, wife of the contemporary musician, has asked Mr. Biltcliffe to do a memorial concert during the month of August, in Massachusetts.

He has purchased a home in New York and will be joined by his wife just as soon as their Indianapolis home has been disposed of.

Controversial 'Elmer Gentry' Film Opens Sunday at Walker For 4 Days

The highly controversial film version of Sinclair Lewis' best-selling novel, "Elmer Gentry," will open Sunday at the Walker Theater, through United Artists release. Burt Lancaster and Jean Simmons are starred in "Elmer Gentry" with Dean Jagger, Shirley Jones, Patti Page and Arthur Kennedy. The film is a Burt Lancaster-Richard Brooks production in Eastmancolor.

Lancaster portrays Elmer Gentry, the itinerant evangelist minister. Miss Simmons co-stars as Sister Sharon Falconer.

The set of "Elmer Gentry" was closed during the filming of the entire production, the screenplay guarded with strictest secrecy, full scripts being issued only to the principal players and top production personnel.

Lancaster and Brooks adopted the policy of secrecy just as Sinclair Lewis did when he wrote the novel in 1927. The Noble Prize-winning author, before he submitted the completed manuscript to the book's publisher, Harcourt and Brace, insisted that only the partners be allowed to read the novel, and then place it under lock and key until publication.

"Elmer Gentry" brings to the screen "The Singing Rage," Miss Patti Page, who makes her motion picture debut as the choir leader of the traveling Evangelical troupe.

Shirley Jones was chiefly known as the sweet young singing star of such musicals as "Oklahoma," and "Carousel," until she was cast in "Elmer Gentry" as a lady of easy virtue.

power of the prayer contained in it, and the meaning of spirituals to people today. Three readers, Earle Hyman, Roi Saunders and Paul Stevens, will intone the words of the spirituals.

"A Joyful Noise" is produced by Prentiss Childs for the public affairs department of CBS News. Marvin Silbersher wrote the script and will also direct.

The People I Meet

By BARON HARRIS

HOLLYWOOD, U. S. A. — The days are flying by, the nights are cool and some things are still amazing me. Archie Moore, the light-heavyweight champion of the world, has contributed an article to our magazine, BRONZE MANNIKINS, and has titled it "THE SALT MINE." In a condensed manner he describes his training quarters and it adds up to 'interesting reading.'

Anyone back there in Indianapolis who comes this way, even for a visit, should not fail to visit 'Archie's Diggings.' It's a very unusual place and worth writing home about. Then, too, a visit there will give a person an insight on the man himself besides showing you how far sighted he really is.

DELILAH (formerly of Samson and Delilah) seems destined to go far in her new career as a strip tease dancer. She works under the name of KANDY KART and will be coming east soon. The Pink Poodle would do well to give her a booking.

She plans to marry soon so, gentlemen, the line no longer forms on the right. Her former partner, Samson, is readying a new act which we shall be looking at soon. If it is half as good as the other act he will not have to worry about bookings.

WE THOUGHT that the present White House administration which is of course Democratic, had gotten off to a good start but when, through newscasts, we learned that the Atty. General who is the President's brother said that a Negro should be able to be elected President of the United States in about 30 years we considered that remark "the straw that broke the camel's back."

If the Negro must wait another 30 years before getting a crack at the Presidency, then we have come this far all for naught. With the number of intelligent Negroes around who are qualified PEACEMAKERS, WE WOULD DO WELL TO HAVE ONE ELECTED IN THE NEXT FEW YEARS. The Negro is sick of winning the White man's wars and getting nothing in return. The few POLITICAL CRUMBS which are handed to us after every national election cannot compensate us for the many years of suffering that we have experienced as a race of people.

I cannot bring myself to believe that President Kennedy is a liberal when he ignored the pleas of certain Negro leaders and refused to name a Negro to an important cabinet post. It is true that he offered Mr. Dawson the position of Postmaster General but we sincerely feel that he did so knowing that Mr. Dawson would not relinquish his job as Congressman and political leader of Chicago's south side to be buried in a position which could very well spell doom to his political career.

Mr. Dawson is a very wise man and the President is charged with an error. He is not experienced enough to lead this country in these troubled times and his brother is too young to be Atty. General. As time goes on you will see them both commit many boo-boos, and it can all be laid at the feet of INEXPERIENCE.

day when she walked into her cousin's swank eatery and saw Atty. Rufus Kuykendall sitting at a table surrounded by food fit for a king. (Note: We have one of the menus—it's a lulu!) Mr. Simpson also operates a beer distributorship. The only Negro distributing beer in Washington and he has several trucks. We saw the pix in Ebony a good while back.

OUR APOLOGIES: In a piece in this column of July 22, we said in our head (all caps) that Domestic goes to Supreme Life. But somewhere down in the middle the name changed to Mammoth... which was a mistake. And for which we are extremely sorry. The Supreme Life bought the Domestic Insurance Co. of Louisville through the Ky. Central. After all, we all make mistakes.

Don't we ALL? Work on James Love's new Cotton Club has slowed up a bit. And we are hoping that things will happen as we predicted some time ago.

running to 20-25 boys. And you know," he adds with a crinkling smile, "all our teams are outfitted and we have THREE EXTRA SETS OF UNIFORMS which somebody else could have." Now ain't that somp'n?

lege Club' there in Naptown would do well to contact the Philander Smith College Club of Los Angeles. They both have much in common. The fabulous STRIP CITY nite club here which is the haven for tan strippers in the west has passed into the hands of a 'revership' and is being operated on a much shaved budget. However had business is they seem able to keep the doors open and pay the help which is more than DANNY STOVER, the ex-operator can say. It's in a terrific location and we feel that it will rise to the heights again.

Time has run out and so has our space. We'll have some "food for thought" for you next week so until that time we'll be keeping a big stick handy for the very ugly pooch that continues to molest us every time we go to our crib at 1124 N. Hoover in Hollywood, U. S. A., the city of make believe.

BROWNIE'S BAR-B-Q
OPEN FRI. & SAT.
Claude Brown wants the public to know that there's no whiskey or beer sold at Brownie's "Under the Stars" Charcoal Bar-B-Q at 521 Bright St.

But, Claude says, he is selling the best barbecue ribs in town, and is the only barbecue chef using charcoal. He also says that his potato salad, baked beans and French fries can't be beat.

Claude invites you and your friends to come out this Friday and Saturday from 7:30 till 2:30 a.m. and enjoy the best barbecue in town under the stars. Oh, yes, they do sell ice cold pop.

NOW YOU'RE looking at Leonard, Leonard and Leonard... but you only see Leonard and Leonard... and that's because t'other Mr. Leonard is not there... but he is on stage in person with the internationally-famous dancers at Idlewild, Mich., where the threesome is appearing at the popular Fiesta Room in the popular resort city. The boys are reaiiv Paul, Chester and Richard. The latter joined Chester while Paul was busy slayin' audiences in Kobe, Japan. Now Paul is back and the group is dancin' high, wide and handsome under the personal management of hotel owner, Ernest Perry, who also manages the Four Sounds.

Once Race-Baiter, Ty Cobb Finally OK'd Integration

CHICAGO (ANP)—Undoubtedly Ty Cobb, like other white players of his era, would have objected to the presence of Negro athletes in major league baseball. Any who played during the famed Georgia Peach's 24 years as a big leaguer masqueraded as something else.

But when tan players finally overcame the barrier of bigotry to gain recognition as many of the outstanding performers of the generation, Cobb at last spoke in favor of racial freedom in baseball.

SEVERAL YEARS AGO, while watching a game between the then Brooklyn Dodgers and the Chicago Cubs, Cobb expressed his admiration of Roy Campanella as a catcher.

Later he said:

"I see no reason in the world why we should not compete with Negro athletes. No white man has a right to be less of a gentleman than the colored man. That goes not only for baseball but for all walks of life."

Times had changed indeed for Ty Cobb, who died at the age of 74.

"This summer we have better than 200 boys in our program," Dunville observes. "We have six major league teams and six minors, with some of the minor squads
